OF REQUESTS FOR DOCUMENTS AND OTHER DISCLOSURE

Defendants, DAVS PARTNERS LLC and ASK ELECTRICAL CONTRACTING CORP.
(hereinafter referred to as "Responding Defendants"), by their attorneys, MILBER MAKRIS
PLOUSADIS & SEIDEN, LLP, hereby provide a Supplemental Response to Plaintiff, FALLS
LAKE NATIONAL INSURANCE COMPANY's ("FALLS LAKE"), First Set of Requests for Documents and Other Disclosure dated September 22, 2022, as follows:

GENERAL OBJECTIONS

1. Responding Defendants submit these objections and responses and will make the production of information and documents described herein without conceding the relevancy or materiality of the subject matter of any demands, and without prejudice to the right to object to all further discovery or the admissibility of any additional proof on the subject matter of any documents at trial. In addition, if any privileged document or information is or has been inadvertently produced, Responding Defendants reserve the right to withdraw that document(s) or information from production and/or seek a protective order from the Court.
2. Responding Defendants general and specific objections shall apply to these demands and all later discovery demands.

3. Responding Defendants General Objections shall be deemed continuing throughout their responses to specific demands that follow, even when not further referred to in said responses.

4. Responding Defendants object to these demands in their entirety to the extent they call for the production of documents containing:

- (a) information that embodies or discloses confidential communications between Defendants and their attorneys and therefore is exempt from discovery under the attorney-client privilege;
- (b) information that represents the work product of attorneys for Defendants or that otherwise reflects the mental impressions, conclusions, opinions or legal theories of those attorneys or their agents and therefore is exempt from discovery under the work product privilege or immunity;
- (c) information that has been compiled in anticipation of litigation by or on behalf of Defendants or their attorneys and therefore is exempt from discovery under the trial preparation privilege or immunity;
- (d) information that is confidential, commercial, financial and/or proprietary, which documents and information, to the extent relevant to this action, should only be produced if made subject to the protective order preserving the confidentiality of same; and
- (e) information protected from disclosure by any other privilege recognized by law.

5. Responding Defendants object to these demands in their entirety to the extent they call for production of documents not relevant to the subject matter of the pending action and not reasonably calculated to lead to the discovery of admissible evidence.

6. Responding Defendants object to those demands for production that are duplicative or cumulative and as to which information may be obtained from another source that is more convenient, less burdensome and less expensive.

7. Responding Defendants object to these demands for production, and any portion thereof, that are overly broad, unduly burdensome or oppressive, vague or ambiguous, or that do not specify with reasonable particularity the documents and information sought to be produced.

8. Responding Defendants object to each definition, instruction and specific demand to the extent it seeks to impose requirements beyond those imposed by Federal Rules of Civil Procedure ("Fed. R. Civ. P.") or the Local Rules of this Court.

9. Responding Defendants object to these demands to the extent they call for non-discoverable matters.

10. Responding Defendants object to these demands to the extent they seek documents or information that is publicly available, already within the parties' possession or equally accessible to the parties.

11. Neither an indication that documents or information will be produced nor an objection to a particular demand or portion thereof indicates that documents or information responsive to any particular request actually exist.

12. Responding Defendants object to these demands to the extent they seek information and documents after the date of the alleged occurrence on the grounds that such demands are overly broad, unduly burdensome and oppressive, and not calculated to lead to the discovery of admissible evidence.

13. Responding Defendants reserve the right to supplement this response and/or the document production should additional documents or information subject to these demands be discovered.

14. Responding Defendants object to these demands on the grounds they lack specificity and particularity in regard to time reference, dates, years or months. Defendants have provided documents to the extent available and in the possession thereof.

15. Responding Defendants object to the Instructions and Definitions set forth in Plaintiff's Production of Documents Demands to the extent that they impose obligations beyond those permitted by the Fed. R. Civ. P. or the Local Rules of this Court.

16. Responding Defendants object to Plaintiff's Production of Documents Demands to the extent that they seek information protected from disclosure by the attorney-client privilege, the attorney work product doctrine or other applicable privileges.

17. Responding Defendants object to Plaintiff's Production of Document Demands to the extent that they seek information for a period of time that is overbroad.

18. Responding Defendants object to Plaintiff's Production of Documents Demands to the extent that they are vague, unclear, imprecise and/or lacking particularity.

19. Responding Defendants object to Plaintiff's Production of Documents Demands to the extent that they require the identification of documents and/or investigation of information not within the present possession, custody or control of Defendants.

20. Responding Defendants object to the Demands to the extent that they seek information and/or documents without proper limit as to its subject matter or temporal scope and are outside the relevant timeframe in this action.

DOCUMENTS REQUESTED

2. Copies of all contracts, subcontracts, agreements, checks, receipts, bills, invoices, bank statements, and any other documents and materials by, between, or involving any party in the Espinoza Action as to the work at issue in the Espinoza Action.

Responding Defendants object to this demand as being overly broad, unduly burdensome and vague. Responding Defendants further object as the demand is unlimited in scope and time. Subject to and without waiving the foregoing or General Objections, annexed hereto as Exhibit "A" are documents responsive to this demand.

PLEASE TAKE NOTICE, that Defendants DAVS PARTNERS LLC and ASK ELECTRICAL CONTRACTING CORP. reserves the right to amend and/or supplement the aforementioned responses with additional information and/or documents, of which it does not have present knowledge, pursuant to the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure and/or up until the time of trial.
